

Scanner is a Java package or class that you can use to scan input from input devices such as the computer's keyboard.